1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs’ Second Amended Complaint [Dkt. No. 75, the “Complaint” or the 3 “SAC”], alleges violations of Plaintiffs’ First Amendment rights against Defendant 4 Sheridan in his official capacity as Sheriff of Maricopa County. The Motion argues that 5 Plaintiffs’ SAC fails to state a claim against Sheridan because the SAC does not allege (1) 6 a longstanding policy, (2) a Fourth Amendment violation, and (3) that Sheridan was 7 involved in the decision to academically suspend Plaintiffs.

8 None of these arguments have merit. Under binding precedent, Plaintiffs’ SAC 9 plausibly alleges a Constitutional violation claim against Sheridan as the final policymaker 10 at the Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office (“MCSO”). Plaintiffs have not raised a Fourth 11 Amendment claim, so whether a Fourth Amendment claim has been plausibly alleged is 12 irrelevant. And Plaintiffs’ First Amendment claim against Defendant does not rely – in any 13 way – on Sheridan’s involvement in the decision to academically suspend Plaintiffs.

14 For these reasons, the Motion should be denied.

15
16 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

17 Accepting the allegations in the Complaint as true and construing inferences in 18 Plaintiffs’ favor – as is appropriate under Rule 12 – the following facts form the established 19 background against which Defendant’s Motion is to be analyzed:

20 In the weeks leading up to April 26, 2024, Sheridan’s co-defendants from Arizona 21 State University (the “University Defendants”) made plans on how to swiftly stifle any 22 student demonstration protesting the United States’ involvement in current events taking 23 place in the Middle East should such demonstrations spread to Arizona’s public 24 universities. SAC, at ¶ 45.

25 Prior to the events of April 26, 2024, the University Defendants engaged in 26 extensive communication and preparation – internally, as well as externally with public 27 law enforcement and lobbyist organizations such as the Anti-Defamation League – all with 28

1 the goal of preventing or squashing any public demonstrations against the use of public 2 assets to fund the genocide in Gaza or affiliation with pro-Zionist entities that might take 3 place at ASU or any other public Arizona university. Id., at ¶ 46. Specific to Plaintiffs’ 4 allegations against Sheridan, certain University Defendants, Arizona State University 5 Police Department (“ASU PD”) officials, contacted Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office 6 before 10:10am on April 26, 2024, to inform MSCO that it planned to arrest “between 75-7 100 individuals from a protest” and asking for assistance in transporting arrestees. Id., at ¶ 8 54. Over twelve hours, before any of the individuals were even arrested, MCSO was 9 coordinating and planning with ASU PD to assist with transporting arrestees. Id.

10 On various times on April 26, 2024, Plaintiffs joined a large group of like-minded 11 individuals in front of the conference center known as “Old Main” on the Tempe campus 12 of ASU in order to peacefully protest the United States’ involvement in current events 13 taking place in the Middle East. Id., at ¶ 57. The protest format was that of a “sit in”, where 14 participants make their protest known through their presence, gathering in solidarity. Id., 15 at ¶ 58. The protest was not violent, disruptive, or dangerous, and at no time did Plaintiffs 16 engage in assault, harassment, or intimidation. Id., at ¶¶ 59-60.

17 At around 11:30pm, ASU campus police began forcibly removing the peaceful 18 protesters and arresting any individuals who did not immediately comply with the demands 19 that they break up the protest and leave the area. Id., at ¶ 61. Most of the Plaintiffs were 20 among those who were arrested. Id., at ¶ 62. ASU PD was assisted in substantial part by 21 the Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office (“MCSO”), which provided officers who were part 22 of the “arrest pipeline” through which peaceful protesters were arrested, searched, loaded 23 on to busses, and transported to jailing facilities. Id., at ¶ 63. ASU PD, MCSO, and Arizona 24 Department of Public Safety officers worked together to systematically break up the 25 peaceful protest, arresting anyone who refused to capitulate to the obvious violation of their 26 free speech rights, processing peaceful protesters for incarceration, and transporting the 27 protesters via bus to jailing facilities. Id., at ¶ 64.

1 III. LEGAL STANDARD

2 Defendant moves for dismissal of all claims under Rule 12(b)(6) for failure to state 3 a claim for relief. Doc. 088, p. 1. A complaint must allege enough facts that, “accepted as 4 true, . . . ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S.
5 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). “A claim 6 has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw 7 the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id.

8 A plaintiff need only plead facts “that allows the court to draw the reasonable 9 inference that the defendant is liable.” Ashcroft, 556 U.S. at 678 (2009). On a Rule 12(b)(6) 10 motion to dismiss, a district court must accept all factual allegations as true, construe the 11 complaint in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, and determine whether, under any 12 reasonable reading of the complaint, the plaintiff may be entitled to relief. Cousins v.
13 Lockyer, 568 F.3d 1063, 1067 (9th Cir. 2009); Ashcroft, 556 U.S. at 678. If a motion to 14 dismiss is granted, leave to amend should follow unless additional facts “could not possibly 15 cure the deficiency.” DeSoto v. Yellow Freight Sys., Inc., 957 F.2d 655, 658 (9th Cir. 1992) 16 (internal citations and quotations omitted).

17 IV. ARGUMENT

18 A. THE SAC PLEADS SUFFICIENT FACTS TO PLAUSIBLY ALLEGE 19 CONSTITUTIONAL CLAIMS AGAINST DEFENDANT

20 Official capacity claims are “another way of pleading an action against an entity of 21 which an officer is an agent.” Kentucky v. Graham, 473 U.S. 159, 165 (1985). Under 42 § 22 1983, “a municipality cannot be held liable solely because it employs a tortfeasor.” Monell 23 v. Dep’t of Soc. Servs. of City of New York, 436 U.S. 658, 691, 98 S. Ct. 2018, 2036, 56 L.
24 Ed. 2d 611 (1978). The local government unit “itself must cause the constitutional 25 deprivation.” Gillette v. Delmore, 979 F.2d 1342, 1346 (9th Cir.1992), cert. denied, 510 26 U.S. 932, 114 S.Ct. 345, 126 L.Ed.2d 310 (1993). Thus, to maintain a civil rights claim 27 against a local government, a plaintiff must establish the requisite culpability (a “policy or 28

1 custom” attributable to municipal policymakers) and the requisite causation (the policy or 2 custom as the “moving force” behind the constitutional deprivation). See Monell, 436 U.S.
3 at 691–694; Gable v. City of Chicago, 296 F.3d 531, 537 (7th Cir.2002).

4 However, “municipal liability may be imposed for a single decision by municipal 5 policymakers under appropriate circumstances.” Pembaur v. City of Cincinnati, 475 U.S.
6 469, 481, 106 S. Ct. 1292, 89 L. Ed. 2d 452 (1986). To hold otherwise would “be contrary 7 to the fundamental purpose of § 1983.” Id. The Supreme Court in Pembaur “hastened” to 8 caveat this holding by explaining that, in such situations, “[m]unicipal liability attaches 9 only where the decisionmaker possesses final authority to establish municipal policy with 10 respect to the action ordered.” Id.

11 And it has been Ninth Circuit law for over two decades that “[i]t does not matter 12 that the final policymaker may have subjected only one person to only one unconstitutional 13 action.” Lytle v. Carl, 382 F.3d 978, 983 (9th Cir. 2004) (citing Christie v. Iopa, 176 F.3d 14 1231, 1235 (9th Cir. 1999) (“[A] municipality can be liable for an isolated constitutional 15 violation when the person causing the violation has final policymaking authority.”); Webb 16 v. Sloan, 330 F.3d 1158, 1166 (9th Cir. 2003)).

17 The sole requirement in such circumstances is that “the person causing the violation 18 has final policymaking authority.” Lytle, 382 F.3d at 983; See also Christie, 176 F.3d at 19 1235; Larez v. Los Angeles, 946 F.2d 630, 646 (9th Cir.1991) (“To the extent that the terms 20 ‘policy’ and ‘custom’ imply something beyond a single decision, official liability may also 21 be imposed where a first-time decision to adopt a particular course of action is directed by 22 a governmentally authorized decisionmaker.”); Accord Pembaur, 475 U.S at 481.

23 Here, Plaintiffs allege a violation of their Constitutional rights stemming from the 24 MCSO’s decision to assist ASU PD and other co-defendants in the violent suppression of 25 and retaliation against Plaintiffs’ exercise of their First Amendment rights. This was a 26 “single decision” and thus the relevant question is whether Plaintiffs have alleged facts 27 sufficient for a plausible inference that MCSO’s actions were taken under the direction of 28 a decisionmaker who “possessed final authority.” Pembaur, 475 U.S at 481.

1 The SAC presents facts that show a deliberate course of action and plan to assist 2 ASU PD in carrying out obviously retaliatory arrests of student protesters. The SAC alleges 3 that MCSO was in communication with ASU PD regarding picking up the students to 4 transport them to jail. MCSO agreed to provide support for these arrests before any of the 5 Plaintiffs had allegedly trespassed. MCSO was part of the planning and undertaking of 6 mass civil rights violations with knowledge that the goal was to end protests protected by 7 the First Amendment as quickly and ruthlessly as possible and to provide ASU PD with 8 the support necessary to process and detain substantially more students than ASU PD could 9 have processed and detained on their own.

10 These allegations, construed in Plaintiffs' favor under Rule 12(b)(6), are more than 11 sufficient for a plausible inference that the actions of MCSO officers were the result of 12 direction by someone who "possessed final authority" to set department policy. Indeed, 13 under these allegations, it is a plausible (if not probable) inference that MCSO officers 14 would not have shown up to assist in the violation of Plaintiffs' constitutional rights were 15 they not doing so at the express direction of the Maricopa County Sheriff, who has ultimate 16 decision-making and policy-setting authority at MCSO.

17 "Identifying a policy-making official is a question of law for the court to decide by 18 reference to state law [...]." Lovejoy v. Arpaio, No. CV09-1912PHXNVW, 2010 WL 19 466010, at *12 (D. Ariz. Feb. 10, 2010) (citing Jett v. Dallas Indep. Sch. Dist., 491 U.S.
 20 701, 737, 109 S.Ct. 2702, 105 L.Ed.2d 598 (1989)). And it is a question that this Court has 21 already answered: the Sheriff in Maricopa County is the final policymaker. See Lovejoy, 22 2010 WL 466010, at *12 ("Sheriff Arpaio is a final policymaker for Maricopa County in 23 the context of criminal law enforcement.") (citing A.R.S. § 11-441(A)(2); A.R.S. § 11-24 444). And "[b]ecause Sheriff [Sheridan] is a final policymaker for Maricopa County, his 25 acts 'surely represent[ ] an act of official government 'policy.'"" Id., at *3 (quoting Harper 26 v. City of Los Angeles, 533 F.3d 1010, 1027 (9th Cir.2008) (further citation omitted).

27 B. THE SAC PLEADS SUFFICIENT FACTS TO PLAUSIBLY ALLEGE 28 THAT MCSO'S ACTIONS VIOLATED THE FIRST AMENDMENT AND CAUSED HARM

1           Aside from vaguely asserting that Plaintiffs' SAC fails "to plead facts to support a 2 plausible Monell claim...", the Motion primarily argues that Plaintiffs' claims should "fail 3 because a warrantless misdemeanor arrest supported by probable cause doesn't violate the 4 Fourth Amendment." Motion, at 3. This argument is repeated on the next page where 5 Sheridan asserts "[t]hat Plaintiffs were arrested or transported isn't sufficient to plead a 6 Fourth Amendment violation." Motion, at 4. Defendant seems to have neglected the 7 reading of the SAC. Plaintiffs are not alleging Fourth Amendment violations. Whether the 8 warrantless arrests were supported by probable cause is a moot issue.<sup>1</sup>

9           The Motion moves on from its irrelevant discussion regarding the Fourth 10 Amendment to argue – in conclusory fashion - that because MCSO was not involved in the 11 decision to academically suspend Plaintiffs, Plaintiffs' First Amendment claim also fails.
12 Again, the Motion raises a completely irrelevant issue. Whether MCSO was involved in 13 Plaintiffs' suspensions is not an apropos question because Plaintiffs' First Amendment 14 claims against MCSO have nothing to do with the suspensions. Instead, Plaintiffs plausibly 15 alleged that MCSO took a deliberate course of action and planned to assist ASU PD in 16 carrying out obviously retaliatory arrests of student protesters. The SAC alleges that MCSO 17 was in communication with ASU PD regarding picking up the students to transport them 18 to jail. MCSO agreed to provide support for these arrests before any of the Plaintiffs had 19 allegedly trespassed.

20           In other words, Plaintiffs have alleged that MCSO was part of the planning and 21 undertaking of mass civil rights violations with knowledge that the goal was to end protests 22 protected by the First Amendment as quickly and ruthlessly as possible and to provide ASU 23 PD with the support necessary to process and detain substantially more students than ASU

24
25 <sup>1</sup> The Motion's reference to the legal standards for an excessive force claim against law 26 enforcement likewise raises a moot issue. See Motion, at 4. Plaintiffs' allegations relating 27 to bruising and loss of consciousness are allegations of damages resulting from the 28 violation of Plaintiffs' First Amendment rights, including the violent suppression of free speech. Such allegations do not – and were not intended to – raise an additional claim for excessive force.

1 PD could have processed and detained on their own. These allegations, construed in 2 Plaintiffs' favor under Rule 12(b)(6), are more than sufficient for a plausible inference that 3 MCSO is liable to Plaintiffs for violations of Plaintiffs' First Amendment rights.

4 C. THE SAC DOES NOT STATE A CLAIM AGAINST SHERIDAN IN HIS 5 PERSONAL CAPACITY

6 Defendant Sheridan is sued in his current capacity as "the Sheriff of Maricopa 7 County, Arizona." SAC, ¶ 12. Plaintiffs are not alleged individual claims against Sheridan.
 8 Thus, section III(B) of the Motion is moot.

 10 V. CONCLUSION

11 For these reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court deny the Motion.
